

The New Official Exploding Kittens 2 Digital Game Available Now!

The latest digital version of the cult-classic card game has launched on mobile and Steam.

Exploding Kittens 2, the new digital version of the cult-classic card game from Exploding Kittens Studio, is now available on Apple App Store, Google Play Store and Steam.

The new version comes equipped with a host of fan-favourite mechanics from the original tabletop card game, including Exploding Kittens' signature 'Nope' cards and Deck Recipes. Players can compete online against their friends and fellow fans around the world, or they can head to Single Player Mode and take on expertly crafted AI opponents that adapt to a player's skill level. The game also offers significant customisation options, including in-game avatars that players can dress in a variety of outfits, emoji packs and more.

Plus, by popular demand, the bonus Most Valuable Kitten Outfit is available to claim for a limited time after launch, meaning early players have a chance to secure this special item.

"This new digital version brings everything from the original card game – nothing's been left behind in Exploding Kittens 2," says Mike Willis, co-CEO at Marmalade Game Studio.

"Players will get to experience the full Exploding Kittens chaos they love, now on the go on mobile or from the comfort of their PC."

"Every Exploding Kittens game is designed to make the people you're playing with more entertaining," said Elan Lee, CEO & Co-Creator of Exploding Kittens. "Exploding Kittens 2 will offer the same level of interactivity that fans know and love, but now utilising adaptive AI to make Single Player Mode just as engaging as when you play with a friend."

Head to Apple App Store, Google Play Store and Steam to download Exploding Kittens 2 now!

About Asmodee Entertainment Licensing

Asmodee Entertainment exists to expand the Asmodee IPs into sectors adjacent to board games, such as video games, movies and TV shows, cultural products, toys and social/live entertainment. This gives our core fans more opportunities to engage with the brands and stories they love, and enables us to reach new customers in new markets with a wide variety of exciting, quality products and experiences based on our IPs. Our global team licenses to established industry partners who distribute products through their own third-party networks.

About Exploding Kittens

Exploding Kittens is a leading game and entertainment company with a mission to inspire people to connect, laugh, and play fun games in the physical world. To date, Exploding Kittens is the #1 most-backed project in Kickstarter history and has sold over 35 million games. Started by former Xbox game designer Elan Lee and The Oatmeal's founder Matthew Inman, Exploding Kittens and its family of games seek to reshape traditional game night into an entertaining person-to-person experience. Today, there are over 40 games available for purchase, an animated Netflix series that launched in July 2024, an exclusive Exploding Kittens mobile game for Netflix subscribers, as well as an Exploding Kittens mobile app available on iOS, Android, and Nintendo Switch.
